

30 Under 30 Women Photographers / 2026
SELECTIONS ANNOUNCED INTERNATIONAL

Artpil proudly announces for its 17th Edition the selection of 30 Under 30 Women Photographers 2026. Founded in 2010, this annual selection has helped emerging, mid-career, as well as some accomplished women photographers to gain further exposure and participate in the collective among peers. With styles ranging from art photography to documentary, portraiture to street and fashion, the works have been overwhelmingly well received.

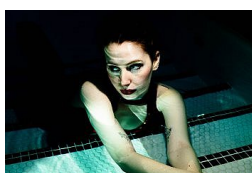

Previous groups have exhibited in Paris and Lille (2018, 2019) in partnership with Maison Photo at Maison de la Photographie and Galerie Claude Samuel, as well as in Rome (2017) in collaboration with CultRise and Dude Magazine. With the global pandemic and the impact it has had on artists and the art industry at large, the group 2020 gave occasion to launch Artpil's online viewing room and the 2021 and 2022 groups saw our participation in Rome Art Week. More recently in collaboration with Recontemporary in 2023 was held an artist reception and video projection, as the 2024 and 2025 groups continued in our growing collaboration with Torino Art Week. This year promises further exposure with a growing audience for the 2026 group.

Among the growing list of photographers in the collective, many have come from or have gone on to join agencies such as Magnum or Hans Lucas, and organizations like ICP / International Center of Photography. Many are winners of LensCulture and World Press Photo awards with representation in festivals such as Les Rencontres d'Arles, Circulation(s), and Voies Off. Publications include Aperture, The New York Times, and Photo Vogue, and several of the photographers have continued to contribute their series to Artpil, including Benedetta Ristori (2017) Being Human; Julie Hascoët (2017) Mexican Journal; Sarah Blesener (2018) Toy Soldiers; Ekaterina Anchevskaya (2018) Forgiving and I Remember Nothing; and Laure d'Utruy (2017) with Tempohome and The Royal Road: In Transformation, Wlasi Laura (2023) with The Unspoken Things; and Galya Budagova (2023) with A Journey Inward.
